RLEYCORN AD BIG WAKE

Is For the Undertaker In Half of Metropolitan Reopened Selling Weak
and Wines—Monday Night
Record For Whiskey

York, July 1.—It was a busy night in the metropolis today.
About half of New York's 7,000 saloons re-opened as usual at six o'clock this morning after a hilarious night in which hundreds of thousands of New Yorkers and outsiders drank farewell highballs, chairs and rickies in Broadway restaurants and roof gardens.
Under instructions from the city, the vast majority today were served only 2.75 per cent beer and that which was considered too strong to be intoxicating. Few places under the law to the extent of continuing the sale of whiskey and liquors and those that did nothing about it.

There was after one o'clock this morning when limousines, taxis, cabs, elevated and street cars were home the last of the gay night that had been making the city of the last night on earth.
In the restaurants and cafes, memories of some old-time New York were evoked by the New York formula of "champagne being the parting guest."
The general sentiment that this was the last night on earth and probably never before in the history of the city had been consumed in many Broadway restaurants arrival of midnight brought the city to their feet to drink solemn in whiskey.

Practically all the restaurants serving hard liquors at midnight. Celebrants provided for this evening by parking several drinks on their table before the midnight knock. The Knickerbocker and other hotels early in the evening reserved straight whiskey and other drinks over the mahogany at knock speeds.

Potatoes Came When Needed.
Last week it was impossible to get potatoes to this city.
New York. Wednesday nearly all dealers were sold out. A. D. manager, William Lehr, went to New York on his regular weekly trip to buy a small shipment of potatoes. However, as New York was impossible to buy any amount more than a car load. Therefore Lehr got the chance to buy he tention at the new outfit.

Members of the Girls' Friendship of the Holy Cross Church entertained on Saturday evening at 10 o'clock by Mrs. Wilson at her home on Delaware. A delightful time was spent and all members of the society were present.

NEW RULING ALLOWS 1 QUART

Internal Revenue Bureau Reverses Roper Regulations—Physicians May Prescribe and Drugstores Sell —Provision For Stocks of Dealers
—Sacramental Wine Remains.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, July 1.—Stringent regulations governing the sale of alcohol for medical purposes were reversed Monday by the bureau of internal revenue.
Physicians may prescribe wines and liquors for internal uses, or alcohol for external uses, the regulations said, "but in every such case each prescription shall be signed in duplicate and both copies be signed in the physician's handwriting." The quantity prescribed for a single patient at a given time shall not exceed one quart. In no case shall a physician prescribe alcoholic liquors unless the patient is under his constant personal supervision.

Similar detailed restrictions on the sale of alcohol by drug stores were promulgated. Liquor dealers, wholesale and retail, having stocks on hand may sell to pharmacists holding permits until the present stocks are exhausted. Wine used for sacramental purposes may continue to be made in quantities not exceeding 1,000 gallons. If production and distribution are entirely under clerical supervision.

Original Regulations.
Under the original regulations made by Daniel C. Roper, federal internal revenue commissioner, the wartime prohibition of wine extended even to invalids, it being considered that wine is worthless as a medicine, and druggists were prohibited from filling physicians' prescriptions containing liquor of any kind, unless it was so medicated as to make it worthless as a beverage.
The Washington dispatch indicates either that the wartime prohibition regulations have been changed, or have been confused with the regulations for prohibition under the constitutional amendment effective next January, under which physicians are allowed to prescribe one quart of liquor each month for a patient.

LAST DRINK MURDERS.

Sheehan Shot Self and Wife Before Their Five Children.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, July 1.—A dispute over the purchase of "just one more last drink" resulted in the shooting of Joseph Deambro, 20, early today. He was shot in the back and seriously wounded.

Worcester, Mass., July 1.—Following a spree on the eve of the enforcement of the "dry" act, Morris Sheehan, 38, shot and killed his wife, Margaret, 35 years old, and then shot himself at their home early today.
Five children, ranging from 15 years down to 1 year old, witnessed the tragedy. Sheehan died instantly.

Recruiting Station Reorganized.

Lieut. Theodore R. Raderick, U. S.
N., was in town today reorganizing the naval recruiting station at the central post office. Chief Gunner's Mate Gregg, who has been in charge here, has been relieved by Coppersmith (First Class) Innis Henrich, who will be glad to talk with any young man desirous of learning what the navy has to offer. Mr.
Henrich has had 14 years' experience in the navy, including anti-submarine duty overseas on the destroyer Jenkins and on the battleship Pennsylvania, conveying the president's ship to France. He wears two overseas service stripes. A banner will soon be hung across Broadway at the post office to advertise the station's location.

SAYS POLES INTER GERMAN.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Berlin, June 30, via London, July 1.
—Mathias Erzberger, head of the German armistice commission, today sent a note to General Dupont, protesting against the alleged intervention of German men and women over 17 years of age in Poland, in reprisal the Germans threaten to intern all of the Poles in Prussia unless Poland "gives satisfaction" within three days.

Father Hall at Holy Cross Church.

Father Hall, former rector of Holy Cross Church, and now rector of St.
Mary's Church at Asheville, N. C., is spending the month of July at Rom-mount, the home of Judge Parker, at Rogers. Arrangements have been made with Father Hall to take charge of all the services at Holy Cross Church on Sunday next, where he will undoubtedly be greeted by numbers of friends and well-wishers.

Major Tanner Retires.

Major Alfred Tanner, of 156 Pine street, after 23 years of service as a special agent in the New York state excise department, retired at midnight last night. He went in an application for retirement some time ago to take effect July 1, which was accepted. He has been placed on the pension list and will receive half pay. Major Tanner is a veteran of the Civil War.

Fire Wipes Out Monks' Square.

Fire which threatened to wipe out the village of Monticello, Solitary agent, Monday, had consumed an entire square in the business section at 7 o'clock in the evening, when the flames were brought under control. Apparatus had to be summoned from four towns nearby.

NINE DEAD IN DUNKIRK WRECK

Forty-Three Injured as New York Central No. 7 Plows Into Rear End of Second No. 41, Stopped For Repairs.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, July 1.—Nine passengers were killed, including seven passengers and three others may die, and forty-three persons were injured in the rear-end collision, between two trains of the New York Central at Dunkirk, N. Y., at 2:20
a. m. today, said a revised statement given out at the New York Central offices here today.

The collision occurred when train number 7 ploughed into the rear end of second section of train 41, which had halted at Dunkirk for a minor repair.

The Dead.

Mrs. Minnie Carlton, 110 Dixon avenue, Toronto, Ont.
Mrs. Enond A. Quinonez and her 2 daughters, aged about 3 and 10 years, 1911 Ferry avenue, Niagara Falls, N. Y.

Three unidentified men, passengers.
F. L. Clifford, engineer of train 7, believed to be from Buffalo. Fred Stott, fireman of train number 7, believed to be from Buffalo.

The New York Central offices here reported that an earlier statement they had issued, declaring that the lower signal at Dunkirk and the signal at the rear end of train number 41, were against the oncoming train number 7, was based on premature reports and asked that it be withdrawn.

"AIN'T THAT AWFUL GEORGE?"

So Andrew Watson and John Sampson, Two Negroes, Classed as Undesirables by Police—Both Get 90 Days in Albany Pen.

Andrew Watson and John Sampson, two negroes, were arrested on Broadway, near Five Grove avenue, on Monday afternoon by Officers Fout and Shadler, on a charge of public intoxication, and making a nuisance of themselves. Incidentally, it might be added that both were arrested a short time ago, given a chance to leave the city, but did not avail themselves of the offer.
This morning they were arraigned before Judge Shufeldt, sitting in the absence of Judge Schirck, and Watson made an earnest plea to be discharged. He claimed that they were not drunk and had used no "inflame language," and that as far as he was concerned he was only seeing to it that John, who was recently discharged from the army, got the trol-ler car safely.

Chief Wood stated to the court that Andrew was a gambler, and that John was a trouble maker, who beat up five men recently, and that the city would be well rid of them.

Judge Shufeldt called the negroes' attention to the fact that they had been given a chance, but had not accepted it and sentenced them to 90 days each in the pen at Albany.
"Ain't that awful George?" they said in concert turning to where a companion sat viewing the proceedings. They repeated the remark as they were led from court. Later they wanted to know if the jail sentence could not be reduced to a fine.

Clarence Alden, a brickyard worker, was picked up the same afternoon by Officer Gers on a charge of making a nuisance of himself on the Strand. Alden did not believe that he could be punished as the only punishment in force in the state was capital punishment, death in the chair, and he surely had committed no crime warranting such an end. He was fined $5 by the court.

Midgets Have Ulster Farm.

Monday "The Three Midgets" were in the city doing some shopping, preparatory to spending the summer on their farm near the Spillway. They attracted a great deal of attention as they went about the uptown streets.
Otto Thelme, the largest is three feet two inches tall, while O. and A.
Schemmel, the other two, are three feet one inch tall. These men have traveled all over the world and played before many noted audiences.

Chicago's Water Wagon.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Chicago, July 1.—Chicago is on the water wagon today but the car has a trailer which may afford some relief to those who are unable to hold reels in the main conveyance. The trailer is filled with 2 1/2 per cent beer and a little wine which, under the provisions of an emergency ordinance passed by the city council, may legitimately be sold in Chicago saloons.

Italian Quake Continues.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, July 1.—The earthquake that rocked north central Italy Sunday is continuing its disturbances, said a Rome dispatch today. The latest earthquake contained in news dispatches from Florence is that the dead number 300.

1st Blockade Run.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, July 1.—The allies hope to raise the blockade of Germany by Saturday, the Daily Express stated today.

FINAL AFTER THE FLU CLINICS

The date has now been set for the final after-the-flu clinics to be held in Kingston and Saugerties, and it is hoped that every single person in either city or village or the nearby country who had the influenza last winter, or the grip or a bad cold, or who has any throat or lung trouble, or even a bothersome cough, will attend these clinics and learn just what is physically wrong with them, or whether they are quite all right. Of course, it is expected that those who attended the first clinics held in these two places will return for further observation, if they were so instructed, and it is hoped furthermore that those who for any reason did not get to the first clinic will surely get to this one. It will cost nothing and may be a life-saver to many a person who does not at present realize that they have the tuberculosis germs already active in their systems.

Saugerties Clinic.

The Saugerties clinic will be held at Firemen's Hall on Thursday, July 10, from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Kingston Clinic.

The final clinic at Kingston will be held in the court house, on Friday, July 11, from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m., and it is expected that Dr. S. Adolphus Knopf, the noted tuberculosis specialist, will examine the patients. Just keep the dates in mind and arrange to visit this clinic.

CHURCH FIELD DAY AT FORSYTH

Baseball games, races, music and a goodly supply of home cooking will feature the Fourth Annual Field Day of the Clinton Avenue
M. E. Church to be held in Forsyth Park the Fourth of July. There will be more fun there than at Coney Island, promised a prominent member of the Sunday school today.
The fun starts at 10 o'clock with a baseball game between the two junior boy classes of which Mrs. E. D.
Chipp and Jason Carle are the teachers. At 11 o'clock the ladies of the King's Daughters will serve a home cooked dinner together with hot coffee and sandwiches. It is said that this dinner will be served at a price cheaper than a lunch could be prepared at home. During the day all kinds of refreshments will be served at moderate prices.

At 1:15 the several athletic events will be called. These events are as follows: Ball relay (2) circle relay (girls); sack race (six in one (for adults), eight in one (for boys and girls), crab race, three-legged race (for boys and girls), baseball throw (for girls), disk contest (both boys and girls), chariot race, skin the snake, Paul Revere race, sack race, broad and standing jump, and of various stances, obstacle race (for girls).

These stunts will be followed by the big event of the day, a baseball game between the Loyal Workers, Conquerors and Winners. These teams are composed of men of the two classes and the game promises to be full of snap and pep. Band concerts will be given from 2:30 to 4 in the afternoon and 7 to 9 o'clock in the evening. At 5 o'clock the city will have a short program followed by fireworks.

BUILDING IMPROVEMENT.

Van Wagenen Store to Have John Street Entrance.

Evidently the L. B. Van Wagenen Company have no notion of letting all of the building improvements be monopolized by the owners of the two buildings on the corners of John and Wall streets. While they already have a very neat and convenient entrance to their store on Crown street through the rear of the Kingston Hotel, which since being run by Mr. and Mrs. Satterlee has been made very attractive, they have found another possible way for making it easy for their customers to enter their store to do their shopping. Having acquired the right of way, they will arrange that patrons of the store will be able to go into the store from John street, which will prove to be a convenience to many who come late from the country and want to park their cars in a part of the country property on John street, and which parking grounds are directly across the street from this new entrance.
Furthermore this improvement will make for a lighter, airier store. The uptown business section is certainly booming these days and all of the improvements when completed will greatly increase the attractiveness, commercially and artistically of our city.

Med With Barleycorn.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Cannonburg, Pa., July 1.—Mike Welch, a coal miner, is dead today as the result of overdrinking last night.
He made a wager with a companion that he could drink the more liquor before prohibition became effective.

S. A. Open Air Meeting.

There will be a special open air meeting held by the Salvation Army tonight at 7:30 o'clock on Broadway, near Hotel Usher, and just above the West Shore garage. There will be singing and speaking.

MANSLAUGHTER IS NOW KERR CHARGE

Elmer Kerr, the driver of the auto from which Julian Ostrander was thrown and fatally hurt when it ran into a telephone pole alongside the state road near Chichester, was today arraigned before Justice of the Peace Voss at Phenicia. After hearing further details of the accident Kerr, who is a farm hand, 30 years old from Edgewood, Greene county, was held on a charge of manslaughter. Bail was fixed at $5,000, which was furnished.

SHIPYARD STRIKE FIZZLED OUT

All of the boatyards along the Rondout creek are running full blast and there are a number of barges under construction. Since the first of the year a number have been completed and launched. The shipyard strike on the Hillstrand yard and the Island Dock shipyard seems to have fizzled out. Both yards are said to have all the men they can use at work, and have turned down many seeking employment.

Organizer Wolfinger is in Kingston occasionally. Many of the strikers have left town and secured work elsewhere.

IN THE SERVICE OF OUR COUNTRY

Sergeant Ray Elmendorf of Hurley has been honorably discharged from the service after spending 17 months in France with the First Air Service.

Miss Bessie Walton of Lucas avenue received word from Private Edward Wootman of 139 Washington avenue, who is in the 6th division in France, that he expects to arrive in New York the early part of July.

Henry J. Sullivan has arrived home with an honorable discharge after 21 months of service with the railroad engineers. Mr. Sullivan has been all over France and at the battles of the Somme and Argonne and has seen some hard fighting. He is now stationed with the Occupation Army on the Rhine.

Private Albert Rich, Quartermaster Corps, 319 Department, has received his honorable discharge from the service and returned to his home at 391 Lucas avenue. Mr. Rich enlisted June 1, 1918, and went overseas in the early fall. He was stationed at Bassen's Dock, Bordeaux and did not get up to the fighting line. He was a clerk in his department. He returned to this country a week ago and was sent to Camp Upton where he was discharged on Friday. Private Rich is the son of M. V. Rich of 391 Lucas avenue and has a brother, Lloyd, in service, who is expected home soon.

Major William J. Cranston, M. C., who has been taking a post graduate course in the University of Edinburgh for three months, is expected home about August first. Major Cranston has spent his time while there in the study of the eye, ear, nose and throat, devoting most of his time to the eye. Soon after entering upon his studies he was appointed clinical assistant in the Royal Infirmary to Dr. Paterson, head of the eye department of the University. Major Cranston writes that he is having an exceptional opportunity and is getting excellent work and will be ready after reaching home to take up his work where he left off when he entered the service.

Bryan Rides The Camel.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Columbus, O., July 1.—A Bing a camel, William Jennings Bryan headed the parade this forenoon at the Methodist Centenary marking the celebration of the demise of John Barleycorn. "I always did" read the sign on the camel. An elephant bore the inscription: "I had to" and a donkey carried, "Me, too."

Shot at Bella Kunz Not Missed.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, July 1.—An attempt to assassinate Bella Kunz, the red dictator of Hungary, at Budapest, was frustrated by the poor marksmanship of the assailant, said a Geneva dispatch to the Chronicle today. Two shots were fired, but both missed.
The assailant was set upon and cut down.

Could Ousted By Brother.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, July 1.—George J.
Gould was removed by Supreme Court Justice Whitaker Monday as executor and trustee of the estate of the late Jay Gould, his father. The court based its action upon the motion made by Frank Jay Gould, a brother of George.

Reverts Back to His Leg.

William Rogers, a negro employed on, Brichman's brickyard, broke his leg while at work Monday afternoon.

MOST SALOONS REMAIN OPEN SELLING 2.75 PER CENT BEER

Whiskey Passed Out Quietly Here—Courts Must Decide If Weak Brew and Wines Are to Remain and Dealers Association Advises Members to Keep Open Pending Such Decision.

Kingston—along with the rest of the United States—went dry, or theoretically so, Monday at midnight.
And here, as elsewhere there appear today to be many inconsistencies in the law's application. Most of the doors that swing both ways were still swinging this morning and weak beer and wine were being passed over the bars. This was a source of great satisfaction to many who had supposed they must get their quota before midnight, and tried to do so.

Attorney General Palmer's dictum on the enforcement of the dry law absolutely forbids selling of "hard stuff" and warns those who continue to sell 2.75 per cent beer and light wines that they are liable to prosecution if the courts decide that these are intoxicating beverages. Therefore those saloonkeepers who keep their places open evidently are ready to accept the consequences if an adverse decision is rendered while the others fear to take a chance, despite the advice of their organization leaders.

The "passing" of John Barleycorn, was observed with no unusual features in Rondout, and in fact there was not even the usual Saturday evening crowd to be seen on the city streets that evening. Even the quota of drunks was small, and only two were arrested by the police.

At police headquarters it was stated this morning that no word had been received from the federal department of justice to see to it that the law was enforced. It is probable, however, that the names of those dealing out 2.75 beer or light wines will be taken and filed for reference in case the department asks for them.

Those desiring a social glass today had no trouble in securing one provided they were content to imbibe 2.75 beer and light wines. As far as "hard stuff" like whiskey it was banned, and could not be obtained at any of the local bar rooms.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Ulster County Liquor Dealers' Association Monday afternoon in the rooms on Railroad avenue, it was decided to notify members of the association that they had the right to remain open today, and until further notice.

Some of the jig juice dispensers, however, got "cold feet" this morning, and after opening for awhile decided to close up shop, and it was impossible to even gain entrance to the barroom. From what could be ascertained, however, the majority of the barrooms in Kingston were doing business, serving 2.75 beer and light wines.

Abram Handler's wine and liquor house on the Strand was closed today. Mr. Handler stated that he had decided that he would not take chances on selling the 2.75 beer until the question had been decided by the government.

Among the other downtown cafes closed today were those of Frank Spadafora on the Strand in Ponck-hockie, and that of Louis Sapp at Ferry street and the Strand.

Charity Commissioner Carl G.
Fischer closed the bar in his hotel at midnight Monday and today not even soft stuff was served at the bar. Commissioner Fischer when questioned stated briefly "I wish to obey the law." He is continuing the restaurant and dining room at his hotel, and there was no dropping off in the usual large number who dined there today.

Uptown is not the Sahara it was expected to be. There are a few cafes here and there. Many saloon-keepers are still selling 2.75 beer and light wines. On the other hand, there are a few saloons and hotels who are sticking rigidly to the "dry" law. The Stuyvesant Hotel bar is tight and to all indications will remain tight. John Conlon on John street and James H. Cuniff on North Front street are closed. Mc-Cabe's cafe on Wall street was not opened for business this morning, and the Kingston Hotel on Crown street likewise closed its doors to the thirsty. Walter Mitchell, proprietor of the Mitchell House, was not in when an attempt was made to interview him on the closing subject. His clerk could not state whether the bar would remain open or not.

The Exile Hotel bar is open for the sale of light wines and 2.75 beer. Charles A. Hengstler, the proprietor, said that he intended to comply with the law in every respect. He is selling wine and beer on the order issued by the attorney general. Near beer is being sold at the City Hotel by Andrew Kohl. Mr.
Kohl put in six kegs of the substitute and states that it is very difficult to tell the difference between it and the "real stuff." One can have it "light or dark." Henry Millnik is selling buttermilk today.
He will keep his place open inasmuch as he runs a high class restaurant in connection with the bar.
Men were lined up at the bar at P.
J. O'Neill's cafe on North Front street waiting the amber fluid from the schooners. Conditions are practically the same around the West Shore. Pessenar's bar is open selling the prescribed alcoholic beer and light wines. The doors of Cunio's cafe are closed with the curtains drawn apart.

Business was booming around drink emporiums last night. The "wets" celebrated but not in a boisterous manner. John Barleycorn was lowered into a grave from which the chief mourners hoped he would soon be resurrected. It was a "man's night and cocktails, fizzes, Scotch's and 'straights' were tucked under belts promiscuously and abundantly.
There were plenty of strangers in town "loading up" to full capacity and then some. It was said that a high official of Greene county came to Kingston last night and purchased over $800 worth of whiskey in a cafe on Broadway. One Italian had a difficult time trying to get a number of gallon jugs and several quart bottles of rum in a suit case. In one place three men were kept busy draining kegs for "wholesale" buyers. Many brought their own kegs with them to be filled. On John street a red faced fellow who claimed Delhi as his residence and who also alleged to having been a member of the 42nd Division was getting his share and trespassing on another's before the town went dry. In no uncertain terms he assured those with whom he stopped that "we'll have our say some day and change things." This "thirty-first" of July will be a memorable one to those who are today nursing headaches and who could not have their daily "eye opener."

Both teams last night scored goose eggs up to the first of the third session when the Tigers shoved their one lone tally across the scoring sack. Murphy hit safe to center field and Komars advanced him to second on an error of Maisenholder. On a passed ball by the All Stars twirler both advanced a sack. Keegan grounded to pitcher and was out at first. Murphy scored the first run while Dugan fanned. McDermott was handed a walk but was caught stealing second.

GRAND GORGE.
Grand Gorge, June 30.—The home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mackey on upper Main street, in this village, was the scene of a very pretty wedding at high noon on Thursday, the 26th inst., when their daughter, Miss Hilda Mackey, was united in marriage to James Edwards of Kingston. Only intimate friends of the family were present. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Leon C. Booth, Oak Hill, N. Y. The bride was attired in a very becoming dark blue traveling suit, and carried a large bouquet of beautiful pink roses. The attendants were Miss Gladys Mackey, a sister of the bride and George Houck. The bridesmaid wore a pretty gown of blue voile and also carried pink roses. After the wedding luncheon was served, the bride and groom left for an auto trip to Kingston, where they will entrain for the metropolis and other points of interest. The many friends of the bride in this little village wish her much happiness in her married life. It is said that the groom has a responsible and lucrative position at Hopewell Junction, N. Y. Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Claude Mackey and Mr. and Mrs. Meander Houck of Oneonta, and Harry Reed of Roxbury.

What might have terminated in a very serious accident occurred Sunday morning about eleven o'clock opposite the residence of John M. Cronk when a Chandler Six owned by F. Brown of Harpersfield collided with an Overland driven by Bruce Meade of Roxbury. Fortunately no one was injured but the forward parts of both cars were quite badly damaged.

At the close of the present war he occupied a very responsible position on the regimental staff.

Theda Stanbridge is now employed at The Atchison at Stamford, as waitress. Last week one day the team of Gilbert P. Murray, our local milkman, ran away again, and quite badly damaged some of his milk cans and wagon.

FROCK FOR STREET

Ready-Made Clothes Offer Many Possibilities in Dress.

Collections Represent Either New Imported Models or Models of American Designers.

Throughout the country, as well as in the more important cities, the shops offer many possibilities to the women who demand smart correctness in their apparel yet have neither the time nor the opportunity to have their clothes made to order. These shops are always on the watch to make the most of the slightest turn of fashion's wheel, says Vogue, and their collections represent either the new imported models or the late creations of American designers. Women who like to dress smartly but who have a rather limited income, may find clothes that are well and carefully made.

Many of the evening gowns shown in Paris are almost too elaborate and quite too gorgeous to be generally adopted here for summer wear. The tulle and tulle frocks, however, are charming exceptions, and even when trimmed with sequins and beads they have a certain air of lightness which one associates with summer dances. Perhaps it is because they are very short.

The summer frocks which had their "try-out" at Palm Beach this year may be sharply divided into two classes—those for sport wear, which are rather severe in line, though usually brilliant in coloring, are made in most cases of silks or of wool jersey; the picturesque lingerie frocks, forming the larger class, are made of embroidered and lace-trimmed batiste, of organdy in lovely pastel colorings, and also of ginghams and calicoes in quaint designs. Very often these dresses are trimmed with unusual materials, so that a dotted Swiss frock will have a bonbonnet sash, or a gray organdy will be edged with squirrel fur. Narrow velvet ribbons are in favor, especially for trimming chintzes and calicoes.

The season furnishes many attractive wraps in interesting materials. Faillie silk is a fabric which is serving many purposes. When trimmed with Angora the soft, lustrous weave of the silk and still the softer surface of the wool make a happy combination. It is used for suits and occasionally for frocks, separate jackets and brilliantly colored capes which may be worn either with daytime frocks or in the evening.

Some sort of a topcoat is necessary to complete the summer wardrobe.

Frock of Indestructible Voile.

The most satisfactory are those suitable for motoring and yet not too cumbersome for ordinary wear. Home-sown in lovely soft brown was used in one coat which was made on straight, slim lines and finished by a wrapped collar.

Smock Model of Silk.
A pretty new smock model for a little girl, made of silk, cotton or serge, may have its neck, short sleeves and pockets trimmed with braid or embroidery or some relieving color. An opening may be arranged at the left side of the front which extends down about six inches from the neck, the edge of which may also be finished with braid or embroidery. As a trimming scheme the braid, embroidery and buttons may be placed at the right side of the frock bodice.

Clothes Press.
To save space in a clothes press hang a metal towel rack and fasten it to the bottom of a shelf and hang the shirt, coat and suit hangers over it. In this way a great many garments can hang in a small space. They also hang free, not touching wall or anything to cause dampness or wrinkles.

Colored Corners.
Tumbled corners to be a favorite for undergarments where color is wanted.

Southey's Oldest Church.
A church at Southey, near Darlington, England, is believed to be the oldest house of public worship still in use in that land. Tradition says that it was built in 1130, and it still possesses an ancient Celtic bell of bronze.

TO STOP OVEREATING.

A prominent Philadelphia physician thinks there is danger that excess in eating may take the place of intemperate drinking. No few physicians have held that more human ailments are caused by excessive eating than by alcoholic stimulants. However that may be, it is obvious that the drunkard brings more harm to others than the glutton, even though the latter may more completely wreck his health. Government regulation of the citizen's eating as well as of his drinking has been proposed with seeming seriousness and, though such a proposition provokes a smile, no doubt there are modern legislators ready to attempt the task.

"Is it illogical," asks the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin, "to suppose that, if the doctors and the common sense of experience can not teach the American people to eat soberly, government regulation may be sought for food as well as for drink? We know that it can be done, for we had meatless days during the war, and lived on government rations of bread and sugar and butter, and the scheme of regulation stood the test better than any plan of prohibition of drinks has over any considerable territory. Governmental paternalism is moving rapidly these days, and if the great American stomach is in danger of over-eating, its appeal to Washington for a saving edict may be needed."

This calls to mind the old saying that even the worm will turn. War regulations are more readily obeyed than those of peace, and it is pretty safe to predict that "the great American stomach" will insist on taking care of itself.

STUDY OF THE CONSTITUTION.

The National Security League, which is planning for a celebration of the birthday of the Constitution on September 17, is also promoting a nation wide campaign for the education and inspiration of the people in the fundamental principles of American government, and in this connection Dr. McElroy, educational director of the League, says: "The Constitution is losing its hold on the people because the people do not understand its meaning. To make that clear will require a very serious effort, but in its successful accomplishment lies the refutation of Bolshevism in America. The need is not confined to our alien born population. Many of our native born Americans do not understand the meaning of the institutions under which they live and are being deliberately misinformed regarding them."

It might well have been added that misunderstanding of our governmental structure is to be found even among conservative Americans who are in no danger from Bolshevist influence. For example, there are those who are more and more inclined to look to the President as the center and soul of the government and its one controlling force. On the other hand, there are those who go to the other extreme, regarding the President as a usurper of powers not belonging to him. There is need of pointing out those features of the Constitution which are utterly contrary to Bolshevist theories, but there is also much need of a clearer popular understanding of the system of checks and balances provided in the three co-ordinate branches of our government, the executive, the legislative and the judicial, each supreme in its own sphere and each demanding the loyalty and support of the public.

"It is important," said Washington in his farewell address, "that the habits of thinking in a free country should inspire caution in those entrusted with its administration to confine themselves within their respective constitutional spheres, avoiding in the exercise of the powers of one department, to encroach upon another. The necessity of reciprocal checks in the exercise of political power, by dividing and distributing into different depositories and instituting each the guardian of the whole against invasions by the others, has been evinced by experience, ancient and modern; some of them in our own country. To preserve them must be as necessary as to institute them."

In an amusing story is recalled of the untrustworthiness of Edmund Roberts of New Hampshire when he was sent to negotiate a treaty with Anam. Asked what his title was, and replying that he had none, he was told by the court functionaries that no Minister of State in Anam could receive any one who had not as many titles as he. "Well, then," said Roberts, "tell your Ministers that I am Special Envoy of the United States of America, Citizen of New Hampshire, Citizen and Freeholder of Portsmouth, Rockingham, Coos, Grafton, Nashua, Concord, Manchester, Merrimack, Madanock, Androscoggin," and so on through a condensed gazetteer of the Granite State until the overwhelmed Cochinchinese begged him to leave off, confessing that the Emperor himself could not boast of so gorgeous a list of titles.

HOW TO BANISH ANTS.

Formula For Poison Bait Which Has Proved Effective.

"How can I get rid of those pesky ants?" is the wail going up from more than one housewife these days. "I have tried everything, it seems to me," says one, "but nothing seems to work."

Those who have had this experience might try the following bait, says the New York state college of agriculture: 1 pound of sugar, 1-3 or an ounce of arsenate of soda, and 1 quart of water. After the sugar has been dissolved in the water, add the arsenate of soda, boil the mixture, strain it, and allow it to cool.

Small sponges should then be dipped in this liquid and placed where the ants are found. Great care must be exercised in handling this syrup, as it is poisonous. Arthur Gibson, assistant dominion entomologist of Canada, also reports excellent results from the use of powdered sodium fluoride. This powder is applied by means of a small puff, or dusted from a bottle or box into the cracks or crevices where the ants have their runways.

FARMERS' MARKET INFORMATION

What the Farmer Needs to Know About Movements and Prices and Where the Facts May be Had.

The New York farmer now has three general sources of market information: The trade paper in his particular line of produce; the local press, both daily and weekly; and the daily market bulletins of the United States bureau of markets. This third source of market information is explained briefly by the state college of agriculture at Cornell, as follows:

The federal bureau of markets has a very extensive system of leased wires reaching every large city in America. In each of the centers, and at many smaller cities, the bureau maintains an office and one or more market reporters.

These offices report on daily market prices, car lot receipts and shipments, weather conditions and general market conditions. In the peach belt, for instance, printed reports in bulletin form are sent out daily as long as the peach movement lasts. The same is true of apples, potatoes, beans and other important crops.

Growers Should Get Reports. All large growers are interested in these questions, and, according to the rural economists at Ithaca, ought to get these reports and keep them on file from year to year. The reports are furnished free upon written application. Producers are urged to apply at the U. S. Bureau of Markets in the nearest city on the following list for New York state:

Rochester—Reports on peaches, pears, cabbage, apples, potatoes, celery, grapes, dry beans.

Buffalo—Same subjects.

New York City—Same subjects.

Westfield—Grapes.

THE CHIEF AND THE MAJOR.

Chief Ryan Caught Some Big Fish Says Catskill Mail.

The vigilance of Chief Ryan, of the Catskill police, is generally well understood by the public by this time. No less a person than Major F. Chandler, head of the state troopers, however, was enlightened on this point Saturday. Major Chandler was proceeding comfortably up Bridge street, with mind intent no doubt on the stern necessity of preserving law and order in these dangerous times and quite oblivious of the fact that he was on the wrong side of the street in violation of the village ordinance in such case made and provided. On reaching the point at which Chief Ryan was stationed a sharp whistle blast called a halt on his meditations and progress, and he found himself receiving a sharp admonition on the point of observing the rule of the road in passing through Catskill.

Something in Major Chandler's general air—perhaps a suggestion of innocence—inspired Chief Ryan to charity, so he bade the delinquent proceed on his way after the aforementioned admonition in regard to observing the law. The chief, however, when he learned later what sort of fish had run into his net, is understood to have "winked the other eye" and remarked: "Why didn't I run him in?"—Catskill Mail.

MUSIC FOR ALL.

Program at Kingston Point To Contain Numbers Requested.

The music by the Municipal Band at Kingston Point Park, especially on Sundays is being greatly enjoyed these beautiful days. But it may be well to give a little explanation regarding the make-up of the program for the Sunday music. The band is now a municipal affair and therefore all of the people of Kingston are privileged to ask for and hear music that they enjoy. As a result there will be on each program some numbers especially requested from time to time.

Conductor Muller is to be trusted to so place the number on the program, whatever their character, as to make the entire program as pleasing to all as possible. From happy-hearted, care-free boys and girls to those who desire to hear sacred or classic music. And whatever the style of music it will be well played by our most excellent Municipal Band.

The Best of Work Music. It has long been a matter of favorable comment that the music at the Kingston Opera House and the Y. M. C. A. Auditorium has been of unusual excellence. Even the Symphony Society owns Manager Gildersleeve a debt of gratitude for the assistance which he has afforded that organization. Therefore the music lovers of Kingston will be glad to hear that the same generous and excellent policy regarding the music at the former theatre, now taken over by Mr. Hathaway, will be followed out in connection with that theater.

LIFE IN CITY BEATS CAMP

Flow of New Officers From the States Causes and Men on Job Getting Ahead—Lady Who Spoke "American" a Disappointment—Many Restrictions.

Bordeaux, June 13.—Enlist is on his way home and may arrive before you receive this. He intends to surprise his folks, so do not print this or say anything about it until you hear he is home. I am glad to see him get his chance for he deserves it and should have been sent home six months ago and would have been but for the red tape that had to be unwound. Now a list of all the 1917 men has been sent to General Headquarters for discharge—as soon as they can be spared or replaced, so my turn will come some day. This base is to close July 10, they say, but that does not mean that we will all sail for home next morning, as the A. E. F. will have to keep an office open here to clear up the left-over business, and of course, the Personnel Bureau, to which I am attached, will have to be on the job as long as there is any personnel left, which means until the last man is ready to list himself to be sent home. Maybe I will be that last man. I have no claim for a special discharge.

This life is a lot better than Camp de Souge in many ways. Not only is there something to see and some place to go, but there is a chance to get ahead. At de Souge we were stationary—all of the "old settlers" were out of it so far as any advancement went, new men coming over from the states with their commissions already made out. It was over a year before I was made first class private. Here I ran into luck. Enlist is a sergeant and he has earned it and deserves it. I was around town with him the night before he left. He got his embarkation order just 18 months to a day from the day we were ordered on board the George Washington, December 3, 1917. For six months now we have been counting the days, expecting each day to be sent home and we are mighty tired of it. But our day will come some time and each day brings it nearer. We work pretty hard, for the force has been greatly reduced by discharges, but not nearly so hard as at Camp de Souge in the summer of 1917 when the troops were coming in so fast that we didn't even stop work at taps some nights. And here we get some recognition for our work. The flow of new officers from the states seems to have stopped, a lot of those who came over have gone home, and there may be something for those of us who came early and are staying late.

We are having fine weather, but oh how I would like to go out and enjoy it without having to go up and stand at attention and say "Please may I go out for a while if I come in by 10:30 and walk on only such and such streets and do not go to such and such a place?" I think when I get home I will be looking at my watch all the time to see if it is not time to go in, or watching out for an M. P. all the time to see if he approves of my coat, and probably applying to Mayor Canfield or Chief Wood for a pass every time I want to go out of town. But what does all this amount to compared with the life of a soldier? Those fellows in the 77th or 78th Divisions led and the things they had to undergo! They are back home—those that are coming back—and I am glad so many of them got back. They should have come first, for they earned it, while all we did was to sort of sit back and hold their coats and rush up the hardback and goldfish.

Monday was a holiday for the French and some of us got off for the afternoon. I had a funny experience, being introduced to a French woman, the wife of a French diplomat in Argentina, who had lived two years in that country. She having lived in America and I being an American, we were supposed to be able to talk together frequently and perhaps know the same people and places in America. Of course the only "American" she knew was Spanish, so we did not get on very well. That is the French idea of America—like that girl who came to New York expecting to run over some Saturday afternoon to visit her uncle in San Francisco.

Jake, who was my buddy at de Souge for 17 months, may be leaving for home this week and it will be mighty homesome when he is gone. It will be fine to get back home and wear regular clothing again. Everywhere you go you are under observation and must conform to rules. All are in one class. If one man gets too big a load of cognac it is the same as if the whole army were on a spree and the whole army has to suffer. I suppose that is where the stories come from about the whole army being such a bad lot, that some of the pious tourists have been writing. Just a few abuse a privilege and then the rules are stiffened for everybody and we are all written up as a lot of bums. We used to be able to get a pass until 11 o'clock, so we could go to the theater. Now we have to be in at 10:30, so we cannot see the end of a show.

Wedding Rings.

The wedding ring was not always plain, as we see it today. It was frequently highly ornamented and was often worn with various designs. But as other rings began to be worn the wedding ring was made conspicuously plain.

The practice, however, was found in vogue of inscribing appropriate notices on rings. The ring may be said to be symbolic. It is of gold and typifies purity and refinement, whereas its continuity signifies "the round flowing of mutual love and hearty affection."

Success sometimes means a fine farm and a bank account and again it means a fine lot of boys and girls in the home.

Even the most altruistic cow cannot do her neighbor's bit. Each must stand or fall by herself—and some should fall by the butcher's ax.

At present and prospective prices for meat and wool there is every reason to prevent sickness in the farm flock and to raise each lamb that is born.

One way to make country life more attractive is to beautify the farm both indoors and out. Flowers and shrubs, pictures, books, magazines and musical instruments all help.

CROOKED BROKERS REAP OIL PROFITS

Fraudulent Promoters Offer 33 1-3 Per Cent Commission as a Lure.

INNOCENT ARE THE SUFFERERS

Regular Saturnalia of Swindling is Now in Progress—Publicity is Urged as Best Remedy for Evil.

New York.—The inner philosophy of the buccannery oil promotion company in the business of selling stocks instead of oil is neatly exposed in a "confidential" letter received the other day by a reputable New York Stock Exchange firm, says the New York Sun. The writer, an officer of a "here today and gone tomorrow" Western faking corporation, was trying to get a New York broker to put out its securities, and obviously thought he was addressing a firm of traders as shady as himself.

"You know," he wrote, "the heavy cost is in finding new clients. Your profit is made in selling them repeatedly the same stock as the dividend and price advance."

He then offered to pay a commission of 33 1-3 per cent, under which agreement $1 of every $3 paid by the investor would stay in the hands of the stock peddler. The generous "oil" man continued:

"The price of the stock is $2 a share. It will be advanced to $2.25 within the next 30 days, after which it will be gradually raised to $3. These additional raises are the best methods known to sell stock to clients."

Shares are valueless. The stock had no value; there was nothing behind it. The price was an arbitrary figure fixed by the company. The proposed raises would have been arbitrary. If a buyer had tried to sell the company would not have bought the stuff back at any price. The company was merely intent on getting a broker to go shares with it in kidding the public into snatching at the securities by "the best methods known to sell stock to clients."

Rep. the brokers do not even answer such letters. Nor will they allow their customers to buy stocks which have the faintest odor of trickery if they can prevent it. The other day a man who lives in a suburb of New York got a hot tip on a new oil stock recently introduced on the curb but not listed. He hustled into town and asked a broker whom he knew to buy 500 shares.

"Can't do it," said the broker. "I thought you could buy anything," said the commuter. "Certainly I can buy anything, but I shall have to decline to take your order for this stock. I don't know anything positive about the company, but it looks bad to me because I do know something of the people who are putting it out."

The customer departed in something of a huff, for he had "splendid information" about the stock. He found another broker and purchased the 500 shares. That afternoon it "went up" nearly a point, which is a lot for a low-priced curb security, and the suburbanite tried to take his quick profit. His new broker, however, was unable to get a bid at the new price. In fact he couldn't get any bid at all, although the curb continued to quote the high figure.

The buyer of the 500 shares still had them recently and judging by the experiences of others with oil companies of the same stripe they eventually will pass to his heirs as an interesting souvenir, unless the waste paper man gets them first.

Situation is Dreadful. The Sun asked a man of prominence in the New York Stock Exchange how it felt as an organization about the swindlers' saturnalia now in progress and what it could do to protect the public.

"Of course," he answered, "we are more than horrified. All the time the most pitiful cases are being reported to us—governesses, all sorts of poor persons, losing all their savings in oil 'investments.' The situation is perfectly dreadful. Outside of the suffering it causes individuals, what a reputation it is getting for the city of New York. People all around the country are being led to believe we are a nest of swindlers. The government has done something, but why it doesn't do more I don't understand."

"A few years ago the New York Stock Exchange put the bucketshops out of business by taking our ticker quotations away from them, an act which the courts sustained. "The New York Stock Exchange is doing all it can, and in co-operation with representatives of the district attorney has not action in several cases, but we have no control except over our own members. The most effective remedy for these abuses is publicity."

Woman Wins Old Lincoln Ballot. Los Angeles, Cal.—Mrs. Jesse M. Lewis of No. 206 West Main street, Ontario, exhibited to friends recently an interesting souvenir which she found in a trunk in the attic of her home. It was a Republican ballot for the presidential campaign in which Abraham Lincoln was elected and his name appeared at the top. Mrs. Lewis' father, J. W. Blunt, was a candidate for township trustee on the same ticket.

Chromatic Scales. There are two forms of chromatic scale. The harmonic chromatic and the melodic form as well. The difference is purely theoretical. They are both played in the same way. It is a question of notation. One calls a note D flat and the other C sharp.

WEIGH MANY BABIES

Tests Held in 16,811 Communities During Campaign.

Illinois Leads in Towns Participating and Wisconsin Leads in Babies Weighed.

Washington.—Weighing and measuring tests of children were held in 16,811 communities during the children's-year campaign instituted by the children's bureau to reduce the infant mortality rate. To this total should be added many records coming from rural sections not listed as post offices. One-third of the total communities having post offices in the United States held tests.

Illinois had the greatest number of cities and towns participating in the campaign—1,261. Wisconsin led in the actual number of babies weighed and measured, as already announced, but the records came from 1,065 towns, ranking third in that respect. Iowa was second in the number of communities participating, having 1,212, and Ohio was fourth, with 944. Indiana came fifth, with 788. From far off Hawaii three cities—Honolulu, Kakuuku and Tolu—sent records.

Following is a list of states, with the number of towns in each from which records have been received:

Alabama.....	1
Arizona.....	1
Arkansas.....	1
California.....	1
Colorado.....	1
Connecticut.....	1
Delaware.....	1
Florida.....	1
Georgia.....	1
Hawaii.....	3
Idaho.....	1
Illinois.....	1,261
Indiana.....	788
Iowa.....	1,065
Kansas.....	1
Kentucky.....	1
Louisiana.....	1
Maine.....	1
Maryland.....	1
Massachusetts.....	1
Michigan.....	1
Minnesota.....	1
Mississippi.....	1
Missouri.....	1
Montana.....	1

The weighing and measuring campaign is being followed up by the work of local committees seeking to make permanent the improvements shown by the tests to be necessary. Many communities are employing public health nurses and providing centers where the poor can obtain free medical advice.

Eye-glasses. The suggestion of the use of lenses for the cure of eye defects was made by Roger Bacon, the great scientist of the thirteenth century. The making of the spectacles was carried out by Italians. Physicians of those days, however, did not know the true theory upon which they were based.

This is a Greater Maxwell

There have been many improvements made in the Maxwell since the war ceased. Some of them have made the car look better. Others have made it run better.

You will note a new type radiator, a further advance in body detail, an improved electric system, a Hot Spot and a Ram's-horn, a superior development in upholstery, and a top more durable.

Any of these is well worth any man's time to look over, and the sum of all represent a decided value added to the car, which post-war purchases for cash have made possible without increasing the price.

But the fundamentals of the car are unchanged. 300,000 Maxwells on the highways of the world—all of the same model—have proved that a policy of never changing the base design is profitable in more ways than one to buyer and maker.

- It means extra value at a lower price.
- It means perfection in design.
- It means perfection in workmanship.
- It means you pay for no experiments, no engineering knick-knacks.
- It means you pay for no mistakes.
- It means a car of everlasting reliability.
- It means a car of endless mileage.

You can easily pay $200 more and receive less. This Maxwell is old in antecedents but modern as far as sound engineering dare go.

There is no car of the day selling for so low a price to offer so many attractive inducements.

See this recent Maxwell, and bear in mind that despite the eight great Maxwell plants the supply is already running far short of the demand. $895 f. o. b. Detroit.

Missing His Opportunity.

The conductor of a band, giving an open-air concert, beat time very energetically, leaning now toward one part of the band and now to another, and stamping his foot apparently in paroxysms of musical fervor. Mike, in the audience, watched him, fascinated; but at the end of the selection, with a disappointed air, he turned to leave. "How did ye like it, Mike?" asked his friend. "Come away!" said Mike, in disgust. "O' me been watchin' him for half an hour, and he hasn't hit one of them yet!"

ROBINSON CIRCUS HERE JULY 29

Second Big Attraction Booked For New Athletic Grounds—Advance Men Praise Location Which Will Be Finished Saturday.

The John Robinson Circus has been booked by the Kingston Amusement Park Association to play on the grounds in the rear of Washington and Hurley avenues on Tuesday, July 29. Announcement to this effect was made by Aaron Cohen, chairman of the association, this morning. The Robinsons show is no stranger to Ulster county people having played here, before it is a two-ring circus carrying about 25 cars. The circus will come to Kingston from Hudson.

One of the features of the show is the act of Mr. and Mrs. Berdini, Mary Berdini and Miss Read. The Berdini at one time trained their horses at the Cohen farm on Hurley avenue. They formerly played with Ringling and the Wallace Hagenbeck shows.

In a conversation with Mr. Cohen yesterday, Mr. Lester and Mr. Hopper, advance agents for the Robinson circus, claimed that the Kingston Amusement Park was the finest they had ever seen and that it would take any circus traveling on the road and a carnival at the same time. They commented upon the natural entrance to the grounds and how well they were adapted to the needs of circuses and carnivals.

With the booking of the Sells Floto circus which appears here next Monday and the John Robinson shows, the merchants of the city are very much pleased with the opening of the new park, and especially over the fact that two circuses are to appear here this month. Hundreds of people will be in this city the two days inasmuch as both circuses are doing extensive advertising in the rural district and nearby towns.

John Hallinan, who has the contract for grading the new park, is busily engaged and expects to have the grounds in shape by Saturday evening. The Sells Floto circus will arrive here late Saturday night or early Sunday morning, and there is no doubt but that there will be a large crowd to see the circus unload. The elephants, of which there are a large number, will be taken to the Esopus creek for a bath affording much amusement for the older people as well as the young folks. The Sells Floto and the John Robinson shows are two of the highest class circuses on the road. Mr. Cohen has received favorable reports from the Sells Floto circus from the towns in which they have been playing.

Taxidermy.

DECREE GRANTED IN MURRAY CASE

An interlocutory decree of divorce has been granted plaintiff, in the action brought by Margaret E. Murray against John A. Murray, of Kingston, by Supreme Court Justice A. H. Seeger, at Newburgh. The parties were married at Bradford, Pa., December 20th, 1898, and there are no children. Frederick Bargan of New York, was attorney for defendant; Brinnier, Gausfeld and Brinnier for plaintiff. The co-respondent named is Mary Kleemann of Brooklyn, and the acts charged in the complaint were committed in 1914, 1915, 1916. The parties signed an agreement to separate and an execution of separation was made in January, 1914. John A. Murray gave her a deed to property in Brooklyn valued at $12,000 and has been paying Mrs. Murray for maintenance since, $30 a month. In lieu of alimony in the present divorce action plaintiff has agreed to accept $8,500 in full payment of alimony, support and dower right, $2,500 at signing of interlocutory decree, $1,000 for counsel fees, and $5,000 at time of granting of the final decree of divorce.

Official Peace Day.

May 18 in 1890 was called "Peace day." It was the opening of the international peace conference at The Hague in Holland, which established the permanent court of arbitration for the settlement of all vital issues between and among the great nations. The conference was first proposed by the czar of Russia.

Rich Silver Coins.

In the republic of Honduras the silver currency was for years minted from Socorro bullion. This nearly always contains a certain proportion of gold, which used not to be separated before it went to the mint; so the Honduran silver coins prior to 1911 generally contain a certain proportion of gold.

RECITAL PLEASSED AT ELLENVILLE

Ellenville, July 1.—The members of the Ellenville Musical Club and their guests had the privilege of enjoying one of the most delightful programs ever presented before the club when on the evening of June twenty sixth at Memorial Hall, Mrs. Edward B. Kimble, a club member, gave her recital program—"An Hour of Song." Mrs. Kimble has a clear mezzo-contralto voice of great richness and range, and the audience showed by its enthusiastic applause its appreciation of her taste and skill. The carefully arranged program, both because of the opportunities offered for the display of Mrs. Kimble's art, and because of the interesting selection and variety of songs, charmed the entire audience. Mrs. Kimble was most ably accompanied by Emil E. Kuehn of Kingston, and was assisted by Mr. Rosenthal, who delivered two "cello solos," and by Mrs. Horton and Mrs. Cunningham, who played the sprightly Valse Caprice in a very pleasing manner. The program was as follows: Early Italian—Gloria la notte. Haydn Spesso vibra per suo gioco. —A. Scarlatti. Lungi dal caro bene. —Secchi Gavotte. —Popper. Cello Solo—Mr. Rosenthal. Italian—Madrigale. Pietro Florida Russian—The Rose has Charmed the Nightingale. Rimsky-Korsakoff Spanish—La Partida. Alvarez Valse Caprice. Charles Gilbert Spross Two Planos—Mrs. Cunningham. Mrs. Horton. INTERMISSION. Negro Spiritual—Nobody Knows the Trouble I See. Rosamond Johnson Swedish—All in the Dim Forest. —Randel-Hagg.

COFFEY WON IN FIRST ROUND

Vincent Coffey, the well known local pugilist, scored another knock-out Monday evening in what was to have been an eight round bout in Newark, N. J., when he knocked out Frenchy, a well known scrapper of that city. It took Coffey just half a minute to win. He led with his left and landed with the right and Frenchy crumpled up, and was counted out. They were the only blows struck. Coffey will fight again on the Fourth of July. ABOUT THE FOLKS. Chris Schoenag motored to this city Monday from Saugerties. Miss Edith Bithoff of Brooklyn is visiting her cousin Mrs. Russell R. Dana, at 216 Ten Broeck avenue. E. H. Longendyke and son, Harold, of this city spent Sunday with friends in Lake Katrine. Jailor Robert Every and Deputy Sheriff Gilead A. Smith left today for New York and Bridgeport, Conn., where they will spend a week. Mr. and Mrs. Isidor Shattin of No. 644 Broadway are receiving congratulations over the arrival of a son, Morris. Haas, Jr., and daughter, Mildred, and Albert Studt motored to Bronxville and New York city on Sunday in the latter's car. Miss Pearl Blackwell, formerly of this city, was a visitor here Saturday afternoon, accompanied by a party of friends motoring from New York through the Catskills. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Burger of Lake Katrine are receiving congratulations over the arrival of a son Warren Frederick, at the Benedictine Sanitarium. Rusk of Orange, California, a sister of Mrs. Haines of Elmendorf street this city, has come to Kingston to make her home and has taken up her residence with Mrs. C. N. Reed at her home, No. 43 Crown street. The KITCHEN CABINET. If we are commonplace and indifferent, we will find other people so. Mind and its level, just as water does, a really original and sympathetic person will find others interesting and agreeable. To complain of those we meet is really to admit ourselves dull. SALAD DRESSINGS AND GAR NISHES. For those who will not learn to like the delicious oil dressings there are others which will prove satisfactory. Cream Dressing.—Put two tablespoonsful of butter into a saucepan, and when melted add three tablespoonsful of flour, when smooth add a cup of sweet cream, let boil, stirring all the while. After cooking five minutes, remove from the fire, add a half cup of sour cream, the juice of half a lemon, salt and sugar to taste. Serve this on fruit of various kinds; apples and bananas are good with this dressing. When serving it with vegetables or with fish or meat add a bit of mustard, onion juice and any seasoning liked. Mayonnaise Dressing.—Mix together half a teaspoonful of salt, and a teaspoonful of sugar, a dash of cayenne and add to a beaten egg yolk, beating all well. Then add a few drops of olive oil, keeping the bowl standing in ice; add a tablespoonful of each of lemon juice and vinegar, alternating with the oil until half a cup of oil has been used, then add the oil faster until a cupful has been beaten in. Just before using the mayonnaise a generous amount of whipped cream may be added and more seasoning. Tartare Sauce.—This is mayonnaise dressing with the addition of chopped pickles, olives, parsley, capers and onion. Use a fourth of a cup to one cup of the dressing. Never mix mayonnaise with meat or fish until ready to serve. All salads should need marinating before serving should be marinated with French dressing and the thicker mayonnaise used just as it is served. Mayonnaise may be colored with powdered spinach or lobster coral. Garnishes.—Jellies, garnishes are the only ones which should be used at wedding parties at weddings. The custom of "giving the food with ribbons is quite undesirable. Willingness to put a garnish as a rule on the dining table. Brains and inventiveness are the best recipes for attractive garnishes.

SOCIETY NOTES

Lange-Haines. Detective Otto Lange of Abruzz street, a member of the West Shore Railroad force, and Miss Grace Haines of Haines Falls, were quietly united in marriage on Monday afternoon at the parsonage of the Reformed Church in Saugerties, by the pastor, the Rev. J. V. Wemple. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. William Baker of No. 42 Sycamore street, as best man and bridesmaid. Both Detective Lange and his bride are popular, and they have the well wishes of friends for a long and happy married life. Richardson-Pallett. In the presence of a large gathering of relatives and friends in All Saints' P. E. Church, Miss Florence Pallett of Bergenfield, became the bride of Thomas B. Richardson of Kingston, N. Y., Wednesday evening, June 25, at 8 o'clock. The church was decorated for the occasion with daisies and roses, and the aisle was strewn with roses. The bride carried white roses and was given in marriage by her brother, Albert E. Pallett. Albert Reese of Kingston acted as best man. The bridesmaid, Miss Dorothy Pallett, sister of the bride, carried pink carnations. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. C. F. Willis, of Bergenfield, followed by a wedding supper. The couple were the recipients of a large array of gifts appropriate to the occasion. It was at the conclusion of the supper that a surprise was sprung upon the guests when announcement was made of the engagement of the bridegroom's sister, Miss Nellie Richardson, to Albert Reese, the best man. At about 11 o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Richardson bade farewell to their friends and set out by automobile for Kingston, N. Y., where they will reside.—Bergenfield Saturday Review. ODDS AND ENDS. The funeral of William Garret Bruce, formerly of Kingston, who died Saturday, June 28, in New Jersey, was held Monday evening at the residence of his sister, Mrs. Lillian Temple, 123 North 16th street, East Orange, N. J., at 8 o'clock. His mother, a sister, three brothers and three daughters survive. Funeral services were held this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the funeral chapel of A. Carr & Son, No. 1 Pearl street. Interment was in Wiltwyck Cemetery. Alice Shultis, wife of William S. Winne, died suddenly on Monday at her home in Cold Brook, of hemorrhage of the brain. Besides her husband she is survived by two daughters, Mrs. L. Bukey of this city and Mrs. E. S. Hinsdale of Brooklyn, and one son, Bert at home, her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Shultis, of Wittenberg, four brothers and four sisters. The funeral will be held from her late residence Thursday afternoon, July 3, at 2 o'clock. Burr Eaton, one of the most highly respected citizens and business men of Ellenville, died at his home on Warren street on Friday morning, June 27, following an illness of two years, at the age of 79 years. Mr. Eaton was a son of Horace Eaton and was born at Eureka, Sullivan county, and when a young man came to this village securing a position with N. Leopold & Son, where he was employed for a number of years, later going into business for himself and conducting most successfully a boot and shoe store, which he continued until several years ago when failing health compelled him to retire. Since that time, however, he has always been greatly interested in the affairs of the village and community and has been most highly esteemed by those who have known him during his long life. He was one of the charter members of Wawarsing Lodge, No. 522, F. & A. M., of Ellenville, and has always taken great interest in that order. When a young man he was married to Miss Carrie Hoornbeck, daughter of Benjamin C. Hoornbeck, of Wawarsing, who survives him with two sons, Benjamin C. Eaton and Ralph Eaton, both of Ellenville. Surviving also are two sisters and one brother, Mrs. DuBois Decker, Miss Theresa Eaton and Orson T. Eaton, all of that village. The funeral occurred from the home on Warren street, on Monday morning at 10:30 and the interment took place in the family plot in the cemetery at Panskillkill, members of the Masonic fraternity acting as pall-bearers. The KITCHEN CABINET
If we are commonplace and indifferent, we will find other people so. Mind and its level, just as water does, a really original and sympathetic person will find others interesting and agreeable. To complain of those we meet is really to admit ourselves dull. SALAD DRESSINGS AND GAR NISHES. For those who will not learn to like the delicious oil dressings there are others which will prove satisfactory. Cream Dressing.—Put two tablespoonsful of butter into a saucepan, and when melted add three tablespoonsful of flour, when smooth add a cup of sweet cream, let boil, stirring all the while. After cooking five minutes, remove from the fire, add a half cup of sour cream, the juice of half a lemon, salt and sugar to taste. Serve this on fruit of various kinds; apples and bananas are good with this dressing. When serving it with vegetables or with fish or meat add a bit of mustard, onion juice and any seasoning liked. Mayonnaise Dressing.—Mix together half a teaspoonful of salt, and a teaspoonful of sugar, a dash of cayenne and add to a beaten egg yolk, beating all well. Then add a few drops of olive oil, keeping the bowl standing in ice; add a tablespoonful of each of lemon juice and vinegar, alternating with the oil until half a cup of oil has been used, then add the oil faster until a cupful has been beaten in. Just before using the mayonnaise a generous amount of whipped cream may be added and more seasoning. Tartare Sauce.—This is mayonnaise dressing with the addition of chopped pickles, olives, parsley, capers and onion. Use a fourth of a cup to one cup of the dressing. Never mix mayonnaise with meat or fish until ready to serve. All salads should need marinating before serving should be marinated with French dressing and the thicker mayonnaise used just as it is served. Mayonnaise may be colored with powdered spinach or lobster coral. Garnishes.—Jellies, garnishes are the only ones which should be used at wedding parties at weddings. The custom of "giving the food with ribbons is quite undesirable. Willingness to put a garnish as a rule on the dining table. Brains and inventiveness are the best recipes for attractive garnishes.

SPURNS A REWARD
Man Accepts $20 for $175 Find Under a Protest.
Mrs. John Springer, who lives three miles south of Noblesville, Ind., had abandoned hope of finding a purse containing almost $175, which she lost somewhere between Cincinnati and her home, when a neighbor came to her with a copy of The Indianapolis News, in which there appeared a story to the effect that J. A. Davidson, living west of Connersville, had found a purse with about that sum in it, and was eagerly seeking the owner. Mrs. Davidson hired an automobile and drove to this city.
Davidson, a huckster and a poor man, immediately surrendered the purse when told the denomination of the bills. He accepted, reluctantly, a reward of $20, insisting that he had his reward in placing the purse in the hands of its owner. Davidson lost two pounds of coffee on the side walk in Connersville when he went to advertise his find, and although he immediately retraced his steps, the package was gone. He still is annoyed at the recollection of this incident.
Perfect Safety Glass.
New safety glasses have been designed for the use of workmen about machine plants, foundries and similar establishments. They are made of chrome leather and sewed close with steel thread. This means that the glass is rip-proof. The palms, fingers and thumbs are reinforced with small steel ribbons. They are clamped with a patented process so that the workman cannot hurt his hand. This type of glass is flexible, pliable and comfortable and can be used not only by men at the furnace, but by the men handling stock in the shop or stock shed.
Small Buildings in Great City.
An interesting account of surviving city houses, built after the great fire of London, is given by Walter Bell, an acknowledged authority on the subject. Three dwarf houses in Chesapeake, shrouded by the famous plane tree at the Wood street corner, are known to everyone. Each consists of two rooms only—a shop, the size of a box, below, and a room above. They have stood there more than 250 years, having been built in 1647. They own their place on so important a thoroughfare as Chesapeake to the extreme shallowness of the site.

TWO DROWNED AT ACCORD

Monday Evening Barney Victor in Attempting to Save Helen Rosen From Creek Lost His Life Also.
Monday evening Helen Rosen, about 12 years old, of No. 136 Graham avenue, Brooklyn, a summer boarder at Accord, fell into the Rondout creek at that place. Her screams of terror were heard by Barney Victor, 18 years old, who resides at Accord, and he attempted to save her. He was unable to swim and while reaching for the drowning child fell into the creek. Both bodies were later recovered and Coroner Kelly notified, and upon the statement of Dr. Harker of Ellenville, who was at the scene, issued the necessary permission for the removal of the bodies.

To Preserve Clothing.
Men's and women's clothing is often discarded before it is worn out because of the objectionable "shine" which appears on material after a short time. This condition can be remedied by spraying the shiny places on the garment with pure vinegar boiling hot. Rub the vinegar into the material plentifully and vigorously. Then press with pressing iron as usual. This process should be repeated whenever the shine reappears.—Thrifty Magazine.

"I'LL DROP HIM QUICK"—DEMPSEY

Champion, Who Waits 'em Out, and Challenger Whose Long Suit is a Cyclone Rush, Say They Will Follow Tactics That Have Won For Them Before.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

(By Frank G. Menke.)

Toledo, O., July 1.—Many thought that Jess Willard or Jack Dempsey will deviate from usual battling tactics on July 4th can be dispelled.

There's no more chance of a radical shift in the time honored war of a snowball on that festive day. Dempsey is naturally aggressive; a cyclonic performer who hurls himself with all the power within him at an opponent with the first crash of the bell; a man who never stops until the last gong has sounded, or "faps" has been changed over a prostrate form. Willard, throughout all the years of his fight career, has been a defensive warrior, a man who realizing that his fortune is in permitting the other fellow to bring the fight to him, has always done that very thing.

Dempsey has triumphed by rushing—and he feels that is the only way Willard has achieved success by standing off and letting the other fellow whirl at him. Each is convinced that his own method is the better. And when men believe that way, they do not change. Dempsey always has contended that his best defense is a powerful, speedy and overwhelming attack. Used against big men, it has never failed. Morris, Fulton, Smith, Peck—all of them—went down under the hurricane of Dempsey's inaugural blows. The "Tah mauler" figures that just such an attack will sweep the crown off the dome of Jess Willard.

"Why should I take the aggressive?" countered Willard when some one asked him if he planned to make a shift and go out after Dempsey instead of waiting for Dempsey to come in. "I whipped Johnson by waiting, didn't I? And I whipped all the others by letting them come at me."

"I'll do the same with this far-famed slugger. I want him to rush me. The more he rushes me, the better I'll like it. I'll say he can't hurt—and the fight will prove it. But when I get him coming in at me, something is going to happen to him."

"I'll fight the only way I know how," was Dempsey's answer. "And that way is to fight my man. I'm not going into the ring to do any marionette or stand off and look at dear old Jess. I mean to drop him in the quickest time possible. The only way I can accomplish that is to get in close and paste him with all I've got—and keep on pasting him, until he goes to sleep. He may think he's going to hold me off; so did Fulton and so did Morris. Fulton thought he could do it with his long jabber—but he didn't. And Morris figured he could clinch and rough it with me. He didn't."

"You can bet on it that Willard won't head me off. They say he's got a great punch. If he has, it's something rather new. I've looked through his record and I don't see any evidence of great punching. He couldn't flatten Morris, Moran, Peck, Smith, Mahon and a whole lot of others. It took him half an afternoon to knock the 'all in' Jack Johnson out. In view of that I wonder how the great 'champion' gets the idea he can polish me off."

"You can bet all you're got," concluded Dempsey, "that about one second after the first gong rings, I'll begin operating on Willard and I won't stop until I have removed his rusty title."

BIG SIGN PLACED.

Brown Has One Now That Fits His Business.
The Kingston Gas and Electric Company has just completed the placing of a large electric sign in front of Brown's Vulcanizing Works at 442 Broadway. This sign is about the same as the one in front of the new Keene's Theater. The sign is twenty-one feet high and three feet wide except at the upper part where it is five feet across. The upper section is "Brown's Vulcanizing Works," while on the three foot section is "Miller Tire." There are over one hundred electric lights used for illumination. It will be remembered that Harry Brown opened his business at 8 Brown street. The business grew rapidly and moved him to rent the adjoining store at 6 Brown street to save his time and space. Last year he found that his business had increased so much that it was necessary to find new quarters. Therefore, he obtained the store at 442 Broadway, where he set up his plant. At this location, he has the use of two floors, giving him a good chance to expand without having to move very soon.
